Across the globe, there are more than 25 million members in 122 countries, including 2 million members in 300 local associations in the United States. Their mission is to eliminate racism and empower women. The YWCA provides safe places for women and girls, builds strong women leaders, and advocates for women's rights and civil rights in Congress.

Women come to the YWCA in times of crisis, as survivors of rape or domestic violence. They come for job training, career counseling, childcare and for health and fitness. They come for a variety of reasons and they leave with a renewed spirit, new skills, and stronger lives.

YWCA's are in almost every community nationwide, and their services range from Childcare and Job Training, to Violence Prevention and Leadership Training.

WESTSHORE CORRIDOR TRANSPORTATION PROJECT (WCTP)

May 19, 2011 status report

The goal of the Westshore Corridor Transportation Project (WCTP) is to identify and recommend a set of cost-effective regional transportation investments for the Westshore Corridor (located between the cities of Cleveland and Sandusky) to enhance travel in this significant economic corridor. The study, known as a Phase I Alternatives Analysis (Phase I AA), kicked off in August 2010 with funding from the USDOT's Federal Transit Administration (secured by Congresswoman Betty Sutton) and with matching funds provided by NOACA and other local partners. Lorain County and the Lorain County Community Alliance were the sponsors of the study.

The WCTP study has been guided by a combined Technical Committee and Rail Task Force group that works with the study project team (led by private sector consultant Parsons Brinckerhoff) to review and comment on all technical reports and presentations. Results of the analysis indicate that the Westshore Corridor could indeed support a passenger rail service (designed primarily for the commuter market) but that a series of short term and intermediate term steps are needed to address the current travel demands of Lorain residents and to build the demand for transit services generally.

The funding provided by the Federal Transit Administration (FTA) is from the "New Starts" program--a nationwide competitive program that ranks projects against each other for purposes of additional federal funding support. The program requires completion of a full Alternatives Analysis study to identify and evaluate alternative strategies to address the transportation needs of businesses and residents in a travel corridor. An "alternative" consists of a combination of a transportation "mode" (such as commuter rail, or bus rapid transit) and an "alignment" (such as, in this corridor, the Norfolk Southern rail alignment, or I-90). Five alternatives have now been assessed in detail for the Westshore Corridor (after identifying 32 initial alternatives for consideration) in terms of their cost-effectiveness, ability to influence future land use to support transit investments, affordability for the region, and related goals identified by the FTA.

Phase I AA Wraps up with a series of Public Meetings

The WCTP Phase I AA wraps up in July with a series of public meetings to present study results and the recommended service options and timeline for providing transit service in the corridor between downtown Cleveland and Sandusky.

In the coming weeks, briefings on the Phase I AA study results and recommendations will be made to Lorain County Board of Commissioners (June 1) and NOACA Transportation Advisory Committee (June 17) in advance of later presentations to stakeholder policy boards in Erie, Lorain and Cuyahoga Counties for their acceptance of the study's final report and recommendations. Public meetings in all three counties are planned for the week of July 11, and official public notice will be sent. Lorain County's meeting will be held at the Black River Landing Intermodal Facility in downtown Lorain.

2011 CLEAN OHIO AGRICULTURAL EASEMENT PURCHASE PROGRAM

Farmland owners have the opportunity to learn how to apply for Clean Ohio Agricultural Easement Purchase Program funds during upcoming information sessions offered by the Ohio Department of Agriculture.

Agricultural easements are voluntary legal agreements restricting non-agricultural development on farmland, with the land itself remaining on the tax rolls and under private ownership and management. Landowners may undertake any agricultural activity permitted under Ohio law, and they can sell their farm or pass it along as a gift to others. However, the Easement remains with the land, prohibiting any future non-agricultural development to make certain that it remains used for agricultural purposes.

For more information about the program and the public sessions, visit the Department of Agriculture's Office of Farmland Preservation, website @ www.agri.ohio.gov.
